THE EVENING CRITIC. ESTABLISHED AUGUST, 1868.

AMUSEMENTS.

An immense and brilliant audience assembled last evening at Ford's Opera-house to witness the famous queen of lyric song, Etolka Gerster, in her grand role of Violetta in "La Traylata." The enthusiasm with which the

Monday evening at Lincoin Hall Mademoiselle Marie Litta gives one of her grand concerts, aided by a fine support. We know of no American artist in the vocal line so popular as Litta, and her own reputation added to that of her support will secure for her a highly successful performance. Among the latter are Miss Hattle McLain, Mr. H. L. Cleveland, Mr. Montrose Graham, John Shelton, the eminent cornetist, and Miss Nellie Bangs. Litta. The National Theatre.

America's great star actress, the young and beautiful Mary Anderson, appears at the National Theatre next week ably supported and with a fine reperioire. No actress is so universally popular in the higher lines of tragedy among the American people than our own young countrywoman Mary Anderson, and her engagements are always pronouncedly successful.

Mitclicil's Pleasure Party.

New York Evening Mail.

Mitchell's Pleasure Party are not strangers of the beauty of Harvily's Fourteenth Street. Mitchell's Pleasure Party are not strangers to the boards of Haverly's Fourteenth Street Theatre. Their success in this house last season, in "Our Goblins," a burlesque from the pen of Mr. Wm. Gill, was instantaneous and complete. Last evening they reappeared with the same fun and nonsense, though in a somewhat reconstructed form. The burlesque is now in three acts, and in the first is introduced a reheareal of an amateur theatrical performance called "Society in a Nut-shell," in which the meck-serious scene between the outraged husband and the fickle wife is extremely funny, and kept the house in a state of continuous laughter. The music is good and occasionally sparkling, and is about equally divided between old and new. Mr. Gill himself sings the now familiar "All on Account of Eliza," from Billice Taylor. The other members of the company are Misses Elinor Deering, Emma Carson, Mira Barrie, and Messrs. J. M. Norcross, Francis Wilson and William Forrestor. Miss Carson and Miss Barrie are both young and pretty, and sing exceedingly well, while Miss Deering is suffering from a severe cold.

well, while Miss Deering is successful.

Severe cold.

This company seem to be on the best of terms, playing into each other's hands constantly, and the result is that the piece runs along smoothly and harmoniously. The large house which greated them last evening was evidently a pleasure party as well, and unrestrained merriment was the order from the rise until the fall of the cursain. There is no better place at present to digest a heavy dinner.

All on Account of a Setter.

A complicated case has arisen over the disputed ownership of a dog, which has been referred to the Police Court, but that tribunat refuses to settle the matter. A well-known cliizen of the District, named Mr. Right, has recently lost a brown setter, to which he attached considerable value, and supposing it to be stolen, has been looking for it, and has found it in the custody of James Williams, a colored man, however, said that he was boarding the dog for its owner, a gentleman employed at the Capitol, whose last name is Harris, and who claims that he bought the dog from a man of unquestionable honesty.

This confuses matters badly, and Judge Snell refused to convict Mr. Williams of the larceny of the dog. At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Thomas Dorsey, the ticket agent, steps oward and says that that "dorg" was stolen from him months ago, before Right, Williams, Harris or anybody else had it. Mr. Harris then comes forward and says that the man from whom he bought the dog thinks that the colored man, says that Mr. Harris owes him $20 for the dogs board. Neither Dorsey nor Right wish to pay the board bill. Mr. Harris is willing to take the dog and pay the colored man, anysysthat Mr. Harris owes him $20 for the dogs board. Neither Dorsey nor Right wish to pay the board bill. Mr. Harris is willing to take the dog and pay the colored man, takes possession of the dog. The doubtful to have the dog is more perplexing than the fifteen puzzle.

was held last evening at their armory. There was a very large attendance on the part of the members, and quite a large amount of accumulated business was acted on by the company. The chair read a very compilmentary letter from the secretary of the Michigan Battalion, thanking the Billes for the use of their armory and for many courtesies shown the battalion during their visit to Washington while on route to Yorktown. The recruiting committee reported favorably the applications of three gentlemen for active membership in the company, and the candidates were on balled tully elected. The following gentlemen were also on application elected honorary members of the company; E. L. Johnson, R. S. Widdecomb, T. Hinehardti, Francts Miller, Horatto C. King, of New York: Lieut, W. L. Baille, Henry Alschwes, and C. H. Smith. The commanding officers awarded the prizes shot for by the members of the company on Thanks giving day. These prizes are very handsome and claborate gold medals. Lieut, James F. Oyster, first prize, Corporal W. P. Vale, second; S. G. Elliott, the third, or Addison medal, and Private Goodwin the leather medal and Infant gun for the poorest score of the entire command. The company has been ordered to assemble at the armory on Monday svening next, at half-past 7 o'clock, in uniform overexats, shakes, and dross-bells for street drill.

Grace Church Pair.

The second night of the Grace P. E. Church fair, of South Washington, at Odd-Fellows Hail was even more successful than the first. The attendance was larger, and everything passed off in the pleasantest possible manner, Many beautiful fancy articles are offered for sale at prices cheaper than can be sold on the outside, as they are mostly donations. In our notice yesterday we inadvertently omitted Fancy table No. 2, which is in charge of Miss Ida Allen, with Mrs. J. F. Ford, Miss Clara Dawson, Miss Emma Reese, Miss Nona Thomas, Miss Manne Davis and Miss Neille Taylor, and the Grocery table, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arnold. A lunch and mattne was held at the fair-room to-day, and special arrangements were made for a dancing sorice at the hall to-night. The second night of the Grace P. E. Church

MARY Anderson appears Monday, De-cember 5, and during the week. It is difficult to say anything of this truly gifted young lady that has not already been said.

German Orphan Asylum Fair.

Gerster, in her grand role of Vicilita in "La Traylaia." The enthusiasm with which the artist was received was fully merited by the magnificent rendition of the character. Grace ful and powerful as an actress, and as a vocal ist without a peer, this distinguished lady created a sensation in our musical and dramatic frieles rarely experienced at the National Capital.

Her support was, in most respects, of a high character of excellence. Signor Francesco diamini, as Afredothis first appearance here, produced a pronounced impression, and Signor Massimo Clapini, as Germoni, was, within a vocal and dramatic point of view, emphatically a success.

To-night Verdi's most beautiful opera "Il Trovatore" will be presented, the famous Parisian operatic artist, Mademoiselle Maria Leslino appearing for the first time in this country in her favorite character of Leonora; Signor Giannini assumes the role of Massicos, and Mr. George Sweet that of the Count Di Luna. A grand performance is looked for.

Resolved, That the election of a Republican to succeed Senator Johnston to the United States Senate from Virginia would be a grateful acknowledgement to the S5,000 Republican voters in the State who supported the coalition at the November election, 1881; that this association, as Republicans, request our friends in the Virginia Legislature to urge a Republican for that position.

after a number of amendments the constitution was adopted. The following new members were elected: Charles Katzensher, J. I.
Christiancy, James Cullen, E. P. Warren, B.
L. Reed, George B. Brooks, C. D. Hudson and Charles J. Weston. In the course of some highly-interesting remarks Mr. Frank B. Conger called attention to the number of Democrats employed in the Departments. He said that some measures ought to be adopted to cleanse the Departments in this particular and supply their places with active, carnest Republicans. After discussion the matter was referred to a committee, consisting of Messrs. Z. Moses, F. B. Conger and B. A. Harlan, the same committee which will represent the association in the Central Association of States. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Z. Moses;
vice-president, R. H. Thayer; secretary, F. B.
Conger; treasurer, J. W. Green; executive committee, W. H. Barber, W. B. Thompson, D.
B. Ainger, D. T. Pierce and A. F. Dinsmore.

The Reception of The Washington Cadets.

The Washington Cadets gave their first reception, exhibition drill and ball, last evening at Tallmadge Hall. Among their guests were nearly all the members of the Capital City nearly all the members of the Capital City Guard, with their officers as follows: Capt. T. S.Kelly, First Lieut, Charles B. Douglas, Second Lieut, William H. Smallwood. The drill gave satisfactory evidence of the company's progress in military tactics, and their prompt movements in forming and breaking ranks were especially noticeable. The officers of the company are Capt. C. A. Fleetwood, commanding; first lieutenant, Ed. Brocken-borough; second fleutenant, George S. Contee; brevet lieutenant, Robert Owens. The reception committee were: Lieut. Ed. Brocken-borough, Lieut. George S. Contee, Lieut. Robert P. Owens, Serk. W. Marshall, Corp. W. H. Clark, and Cadet E. E. Norris. The floor committee were: Cadet D. Stewart, chairman; Cadets P. L. Dodson, B. H. Waters, N. Jackson, Corp. M. Smith, and C. A. Fleetwood, captain commanding.

An inquiry embraces the operations of fifty-two carefully selected banks. The total receipts were $157,000,000, of which it was found 12 per cent, was in cash and 88 per cent, in checks and drafts. The main features are an elaborate article on the duties of bank directors and examiners of national banks, called forth by the recent failure of the Mechanics' National Bank, of Newark. Report of the Secretary of War. The annual report of Secretary Lincoln in-orses Gen. Sherman's recommendation that the effective force of the army be increased to 30,000 men. He directs the attention of Con-gress to the necessity for additional legisla-tion to prevent intruders from entering the Indian reservations. He holds with Chief Engineer Wright that fortifications and torpedoes must be mainly relied on for the defense of our extended sea coast, and recommends that liberal appropriations be made for the construction and repair of forts and other permanent works. The Secretary concurs with his predecessor in office in the opinion that the standard of admission to West Point should not be raised. The fact that forty-eight out of 118 candidates were rejected at the last examination shows that it is already sufficiently high. It might be well, however, to extend the course of instruction to five years. The expenditures of the War Department during the fiscal year ended June 30 were $42,122,201; the appropriations for the current year were $44,889,725, and the estimates for 1883 are $44,541,276.
